PRESIDENT HASTENS BACK TO HIS SUMMER HOME

OYSTER BAY, N. Y., June 26,—President Roesevelt returned here at 202 o'clock tonight from Princeton, N. J., where he attended the funeral of expresident Cleveland. Loaving Princeton at 6:20 o'clock, the President's special on the Pennsylvania railroad reached Jersey City at 1:22. Governor Fort of New Jersey had accompanied the President and they left together, bidding each other good-bye at the station. The trip from the train to pier was through a large growd of commuters behind the repe which marked off the space reserved for the passage of the presidential party. As the President passed the mon in the crowd silently uncovered their heads and Mr. Roesevelt responded in kind.

President Roosevelt, in speaking of the funeral Services of the late ex-President Cleveland at Princeton today, expressed his pleasure at the simplicity of the coremonies and said they were ontirely in keeping with the character of the dead statesman. The reading of Wordsworth's "The Happy Warrior" was singularly appropriate.

Some Evidence That Democratic Leader Will "Pass Up" the Eastern States.

Bryan has passed the word among his supporters that Johnson must be named for his runthat Johnson must be named for his run-ning mate, notwithstanding Johnson's declaration that he will not accept the vice presidential nomination

Bryan is quoted as saving that Johnson is too good a Democrat to jeopardize the success of the Democrat by rejecting the nomination. Bryan's friends have expressed the opinion that Johnson is strong enough to carry Minnesota, The fact that Bryan wants a Western man as his running mate substantiates the story that the Democrats do not ex-pect to carry any of the Eastern States, and will therefore center their fight in the middle West.

COLONEL AUGUR'S DEATH RECALLS SAN JUAN HILL

CINCINNATI, June 26 .- Liteut.-Col. Am-

CINCINNATI, June 26.—Lieut.-Col, Ammon A. Augur. U. S. A., who for the past two months has been stationed at Fort Thomas, Ky., died at that post last night after a lingering illness. Colonel Augur was afflicted with Bright's disease.

He was born in Michigan fifty-five years ago and was a graduate of West Foint. A widow and three children, one grown son and two younger daughters, survive. Colonel Augur was promoted from captain of the Twenty-fourth infantry for bravery at San Juan Hill. When the Rough Riders, led by Colonel Roosevelt charged up the hill to capture the Spanish blockhouse, they were subjected to a murderous fire. A New York regiment which was expected to support them failed to make the charge and the Twenty-fourth liftantry, composed of colored regular troops commanded by white officers, charged over their prostrate bodies. With this reinforcement, the Roosevelt regiment swept up the hill and captured the blockhouse, the strategic point in the first day's battle. The Twenty-fourth Cantry all of its officers were citaer killed or disabled. Colonel Augur, however, though in the thick of the fight, escaped unscathed.

INSURANCE RATES SLIGHTLY REDUCED

Local Manager of Underwriters' Takes Up the Strenuous Life Board Now Sending Out New Cards.

MANY COMPLICATIONS IN MAKING THE CHANGE

On the Whole It Is Claimed the Has Been Fatigued by His Cele-Reduction Is Between 10 and 15 Per Cent.

The new ratings for fire insurance risks for Salt Lake City went into effect April 20, being retroactive from the date of the issuance of the new rating book, which occurred on June 20. The change has been expected for several months and has given rise to a good deal of discussion by insurance men and others, both in favor of and against the change and what was supposed would be a great reduction in the ratings for risks in this city.

Regarding the new rating book and any change in the rates, Mr. Scheid, local manager of the Pacific Board of Fire Underwriters, said Friday that it was extremely difficult to reckon the percentage of the change because of the complications in the system and the fact that the new ratings were obtained upon an entirely different basis from that formerly used.

Low Flat Rate.

The new system comprehends the placing of a low flat rate on all risks in the city and the addition to this of in the city and the addition to this of amounts from failure to conform to what would be an ideal risk. For example, there are additions to the general net rating which would hold for a building of a certain class because of failure to use wire men glass in windows, or for failure to use steel shutters. The number and location of elevators and stairways also effect an increase in the rating, as does also the fire hazard from adjacent buildings. The amounts to be charged for these risks are based on a scheme established as a result of the experience of fire examiners and are the scheme established as a result of the experience of fire examiners and are the same as are used in all cities under the jurisdiction of the Pacific board.

The fact that this new rating book can be used in Salt Lake City comes from the increase in the water supply and the excellent condition of the fire department, which bring this city into the first class. The new rating book is in use in cities of California, Oregon, Idaho, Montans, Arizona, Nevada and Utal, the latter State being known as District F.

Changed Conditions

Changed Conditions.

Mr. Scheid said that if all of the conatt. Scheid said that it all of the conditions which govern fire insurance risks here were the same as they were before the change had been contemplated, there would be no difficulty in comparing the rates which formerly obtained here and the new ones. But, as a matter of fact, conditions here change very greatly. Buildings which former-ly were used for grocery stores are now used for saloons or some other purpose, thus making it necessary to give them another rate to conform to the changed In addition, many classes of risks which were insured at a certain rate are now insured at higher or lower rates, on account of a difference in the fire hazard. That is, ratings on stores which keep stocks of hay and grain have been increased because, in the opinion of the fire underwriters' hoard, risks of that class are very hazardous The moving picture machines have caused another change in the ratings of many buildings, especially when they are located in buildings which are not ing buildings. Advance in Some Instances.

unusually good risks or which by their position add to the hazard of surround-

It is thus, that while the basis of he new rating is much lower than the old rating, in some instances there has been an advance. One point which Mr. Scheid emphasized was the fact Mr. Scheid emphasized was the fact that the new rating gives a distinct reduction to policies insuring up to amounts near the total value of the property. Formerly nothing of the sort was done for insurance below 80 and 90 per cent of the value of the property. Under the new rating, if the insurance is 60 per cent of the value of the property, the reduction is 10 per cent for rates of $1.50 and under. If the insurance is 70 per cent of the value of the property, a reduction of 20 per cent in the rate is made, when the rate is 75 cents or under; and 15 per cent reduction for rates between per cent reduction for rates between 75 cents and $1.50. These rates are for insurance on buildings only, and an additional reduction of five points is made for insurance on contents of buildings. The new rates have been arrived at after a long and careful computation of all the risks in the city. An ex-pert was brought here from San of all the risks in the city. An expert was brought here from San Francisco, who examined the buildings of the city and assisted in making many of the ratings. Mr. Scheid said that on the whole the new rates comprehended a reduction in cases where conditions are exactly the same as they were before of between 10 and 15 per cent. He also stated that while the board felt that it had been as careful as possible, nevertheless if any individual felt that an injustice had been dual felt that an injustice had been done he was welcome to come to the office and discuss the matter with a view to rectifying the wrong.

MOTHER GAVE UP LIFE FOR HER CHILD IN VAIN

LONG BEACH, Cal., June 26.—The body of Mrs. William P. Watkins was found today floating in the West Napies canal. On the bank the cap of her seven-year-old daughter Eva was found and efforts are being made to recover the child's body. The horse and huggy with which Mrs. Watkins and the girl started from home early this morning for a drive stood near the canal, the horse tied to a sign board. The theory is that the child ellipped while playing on the shelving bank and fell into the water and that the mother leaped in to save her.

TAFT COMES BACK INTO THE BATTLE

After Two Days of Pleasure at Yale.

WILL TALK TO PRESIDENT ON POLITICAL SITUATION

bration, and Will Really Welcome Hard Work.

NEW YORK, June 26 .- Secretary Taft has passed from pleasure to politics. The transition, inevitable in a way, was really not distasteful to him. During the funmaking of commencement week at Yale, he had a pretty strenuous time. He really is greatly fatigued. The change, therefore, from purely personal to purely political affairs was in the nature of a recreation. The change came between New Haven, Conn., and New York City. Aftor bidding farewell at New Haven to some of his oldest friends he boarded the 3:51 p. m., New York, New Haven & Hartford train for New York. The trip was quite uneventful. After reading for a time the secretary chatted incidentally with one or two acquaint-ances whom he met. He was unaccomances whom he met. He was unaccompanied except by a newspaper friend. Embracing the opportunity to obtain a little rest on the trip he dropped to sleep in his chair and was not awakened until he reached the Grand Central station. There he was met by James T. Williams, Jr., a member of his political staff in Washington, who accompanied him to the Mannattan hotel.

As the secretary left the station for the street, he was given a cordial gresting by hundreds of people who had assembled to see him. Once more he was a presidential candidate and not merely the 'Bill' Taff of Yale. For four days it has been 'Bill, Bill, Bill, 'Tonight it once more is 'Mr. Secretary,' and he is being greeted not merely because of his personality, but as the standard bearer of a great political party. The secretary was driven directly from the station to the Manhattan, where apartments for him had been reserved.

After greeting a number of peopls who were in the hotel lobby who desired to pay their respects to him the secretary went to his apartments. There he received a few other friends while he was preparing for dinner.

Shortly after 8 o'clock, accompanied by Jacob G. Schmidlapp f Cincinnati, he left the hotel for the St. Regis, where he dined as the guest of Mr. Schmidlapp. It had been arranged that ex-Gov. Luke E. Wright, who is succeeding Mr. Taft as Secretary of Wurnext Wednesday, and Gon Clarence Edwards, chief of the bureau of insular wards, chief of the bureau of insular affairs of the War department, should be guests at the dinner, but they did not arrive in time. Those who attended the dinner besides Secretary Taft and Mr. Schmidlapp were A. C. Coffin, head of the General Electric company, head of the General Electric comp, and Ralph Peters, president of Long Island Railway company. I are old friends of Secretary Taft. Both Dinner Only Informal.

The dinner was practically an informal function, and without political significance. At its conclusion the party had an automobile ride about the city. It was 10:20 o'clock when the secretary reached the hotel. Politicians were buzzing about the lobby like bees. The secretary greeted all friends with cordiality, but begged to be excused from any extended conferences tonight. Among those who paid their respects to him was John Hays Hammend. personal.

Soon after the secretary reached his apartments he had a conference with President Booker T. Washington of the President Booker T. Washington of the Tuskeg of institute, Alabama. Mr. Washington came to New York to attend a meeting of the board of trustees of the institution. He asked Mr. Taft to deliver at least two formal addresses during the approaching campaign particularly to the negroes of America. No definite conclusion was reached, but it is not unlikely that at least one address of the kind indicated may be delivered by Secretary Taft bemay be delivered by Secretary Tait be-fore the close of the campaign.
